CHIC COCOON

Both the looks and layout of this four-room HDB flat in Potong Pasir got quite a shake-up when designer Sky Tan renovated it. Now, a chic black and white palette dresses up the living room, which boasts a double-layered TV feature wall made of an off-white textured panel on black glass.

As the couple who own this 900sqf walk-up flat wanted their home to feel spacious and open, Sky replaced most of the wall between the living area and master bedroom with a large glass panel. "The transparent partition makes the whole home seem bigger," he explains.

In the master bedroom, part of the wall at the head of the bed is clad in a luxe geometric-motif wallpaper, acting as a virtual headboard. "There's no bed frame as the couple wanted the option to change the size of their mattress in future," explains Sky. So, a platform was designed for the sleeping area instead.

The kitchen and bathroom, areas that Sky Creation considers its forte, make a statement in dramatic black and white hues. "But whatever the style," emphasises Sky, "it's most important that such spaces are practical and functional." ▶

TWIN TREATS

A taste for two different decor styles need not mean that one has to be sacrificed. The young couple who live in this four-room HDB flat in Simei hankered after a warm, resort-type setting, yet also wanted a clean and modern aesthetic. Instead of choosing between the two, Sky gave their approximately 900sqf space both looks – a woody yet contemporary style in the living and dining areas, and a monochromatic mien in the kitchen and common bathroom.

In the living room, a mocha-toned veneer feature wall complements the tan flooring and cream-coloured furniture. To prevent the area from having an overly rustic resort look, only simple, streamlined furniture was chosen and spaces were kept clear and uncluttered. This blends well with the bright and clean appeal of the kitchen. To incorporate floor-to-ceiling glossy white cabinets that provide plenty of storage space, Sky gave the room a total overhaul.

Bathrooms received the dual-style treatment too, with the common bathroom featuring dashing columns of black and white mosaic, and the master bathroom defined by honey, caramel and chocolate shades in a mixture of mosaic and textured tiles.
